This letter is for a testimonial to all that care to do business with JR Troyer of Mission Creek Log Homes.

My relationship with JR started with a simple phone call to see if was someone I could afford to hire to build the main log structure of my home. It was evident to me I made the right call, as JR is the type of guy I could work with..... easy to understand and to the point. A man of his word. After we had settled on a price, he built my log walls and the gable ends, all on time. During the process we talked back and forth many times. JR was always available and helpful with good ideas.

The house structure was delivered and constructed in one day. It was a great day. His men were pros. Changes had to be made on the spot and were dealt with a timely manner with no griping or cussing. They just did it. This was to me the real test for pros. Dealing with JR and his men was a joy to me. I recommend JR for any of your building needs. Whether you are a do it your selfer like me and only want him to do the log structure or the whole turnkey job. It matters not, he is a man of his word and a joy to deal with.
